

Guide for practitioners to deliver STOP Presentations

Our Vision is for a future where all people in Gippsland are safe, thriving and living free of family violence.

The 30min and 60min STOP Family Violence presentations were developed as part of the 2023–2028 Gippsland Family Violence Alliance Strategic Plan, to assist agencies to have a consistent set of messages to deliver to community. They compliment the STOP Family Violence Cards, Posters Quarterly Newsletter and Social media campaign.

Who can deliver the STOP Family Violence presentations?

Any agency who is part of the Gippsland Family Violence Alliance (GFVA) is encouraged to deliver the presentation. If you're unsure if your agency is a member of the GFVA, please email fvsupport@gfva.com.au

Are these sessions designed for online or face to face deliver?

These sessions are designed for either.

Who are these sessions aimed at?

These sessions are aimed at community based groups, who do not deliver a service or are prescribed to be MARAM aligned, such as:

- Neighborhood houses
- Sport/recreation groups
- Clubs and groups.

Can we alter the slides?

We encourage you to provide feedback on the slides, however they cannot be customised to each presentation for the following reasons:

- We want to create a shared understanding within our communities of where and how to seek assistance.

There are some things you are encouraged to talk about, that may be in addition to the presentation such as:

- Information about your agency and the services it provides
- Information that may be relevant to the group you are presenting to. For example, if you are talking to a school, talk about where in the school they can display resources etc.

How do I deliver the presentation?

Organisations are encouraged to collaborate wherever possible to deliver the session. We ask that you:

- Register your session (who you are and who you are delivering it to) through this link this is for reporting purposes.

How do participants provided feedback on the session?

Participants can provide feedback on the session via the QR Code at the end of the slides. We understand that agencies may want this for their own purposes and we are happy to provide it, just email fvsupport@gfva.com.au.

Using the provided QR Code for feedback is a requirement of delivering the session, as we cannot improve the sessions without feedback.

Organisations may want to also conduct your own feedback, this is at your discretion, and in addition to the QR code provided.

How do I provide feedback content of the presentations?

Please email fvsupport@gfva.com.au. You can provide feedback in written form, or make a time with the Principal Strategic Advisor to discuss the content of the slides.

Why are there so many QR Codes in the presentations?

The QR Codes allow us to link the slides to the GFVA website, which offers more information. Websites are easy to update and therefore easier to remain current than printed information, so where possible we direct people to a standing resource.

Some QR codes also link to newsletter sign ups, which will ensure community members continue to receive information and resources about family violence long after the presentation.

Why use the STOP Family Violence branding? Why not use my agency branding?

Seeking assistance is already hard for many members of our community. Many will not understand the differences between the dozens of community service agencies which deliver services or prevention activities.

Having a shared branding which community can identify with, allows for them to easily seek assistance, while also demonstrating the collaboration which occurs between agencies.

The GFVA Governance Group decided that it was important that the agencies were delivering consistent information, which means that members are delivering the sessions as members of the GFVA.
